MARRIED.

READ—THOMAS—Mr. J. S. Read and Miss Emma Thomas were united in marriage on Friday evening last. We trust that the matrimonial bark may carry the young people safely over the sea of life, and with a host of friends, join in wishing them prosperous happiness throughout the entire voyage.

Personal and General.

The hearing in the Edwards case is set for Wednesday next.

The bloodhounds accompanying McFadden's company attracted considerable attention on Fourth Street yesterday.

"No card playing allowed in this shop," is the legend which graces a certain country blacksmith shop not a dozen miles from Ogden.

The McFadden Uncle Tom's Cabin company arrived in town Sunday evening and put up at the Chapman House. They held forth in the Opera House last night.

Still that sidewalk on the south side of Tabernacle Square. Still stubbed toes and smothered groans. When will it be remedied and cease to be the disgrace it is now?

The local News and the Salt Lake Democrat have looked horns and the wool has begun to fly. The big ring organ of the capital seems to look on and clap its hands.

The question of who is going to move the Weber Bridge, or whether it shall be moved at all or not, is at present agitating the minds of property owners and others.

One day last week a couple of lads indulged in a fistfight and were led to the City Hall by J. M. Brown. Yesterday the court suspended sentence during good behavior.

Plans and specifications for obviating the necessity of changing the county road leading into Ogden from the west are now in order. Those desiring to compete should make their figures very quick and accurate.

RUFUS STEWART came in from the country and filled up with the cup that cheers, and finally fell into the hands of the police. A charge of exposing his person is waiting to face him when he sobers up. He is a guest of the city jailer.

The future destiny of Ogden depends largely upon the enterprise of our citizens. Now is a good time to strike and strike hard. The iron is nearly hot and should not be permitted to cool before the shape is fashioned. Who will lead the van with some enterprising industry?

Now that Ogden is going to have a new Union depot, one that will be a credit to the city and country, why can our city fathers not offer some inducement that will convince the railroads that it will be to their advantage to establish round-houses, machine shops, etc., and make a good boom while we are about it?

Ogden finds herself to-day in a position to do more work in the way of improving her streets in one day, than she could have done a year ago in a fortnight, and at less expense. The result is the streets are rapidly being improved, and before another winter will present an altogether different appearance. A few more public improvements will help the town.

SOMEbody that writes for the Democrat insists that "Junius Junior" never sailed under a false name. It is a notable fact, however, that "Junius Junior" always did hide his identity under a nom de plume whenever he was handling a subject in a peculiarly dastardly way that was likely to result in serious personal danger. Not always as "Junius Junior," but frequently as "A Mother" or someone else. The assertion that Junius knew the Emma Kelly family before we knew Ogden, has but one significant effect.

THE BEST IN THE CITY.

Wretched, Indeed.

Are those whom a confirmed tendency to biliousness, subject to the various and changeable symptoms indicative of liver complaint. Nausea, sick headache, constipation, furred tongue, an unpleasant breath, a dull or sharp pain

in the neighborhood of the affected organ, impurity of the blood and loss of appetite, signalize it as one of the most distressing, as it is one of the most common, of maladies. There is however, a benign specific for the disease and all its unpleasant manifestations. It is the concurrent testimony of the public and the medical profession, that

Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a medicine

which achieves results speedily felt, thorough and benign. Besides rectifying liver disorder, it invigorates the feeble, conquers kidney and bladder

complaint, and hastens the convalescence

of those recovering from enfeebling diseases. Moreover, it is the grand specific for fever and ague.

Renews Her Youth.

Mrs. Phoebe Chesley, Peterson, Clay Co., Iowa, tells the following remarkable story, the truth of which is vouched for by the residents of the town: "I am now 73 years old, have been troubled with kidney complaint and lameness for many years; could not dress myself without help. Now I am free from all pain and lameness, and am able to do all my own housework. I owe my thanks to Electric Bitters for having renewed my youth, and removed completely all disease and pain. Try a bottle, only 60c, at E. C. M. I. Drug Store."
